

Linda P. Jones

America's Wealth Mentor™

If you want to become wealthy but feel lost and confused by traditional financial advisors, America's Wealth Mentor™ Linda P. Jones' innovative approach to financial wealth and security is for you. Linda teaches how to achieve your financial dreams in a way you've never thought possible by literally transforming the way you think and learn about building wealth.

Without focusing on boring numbers, budgets, or spreadsheets, Linda makes finance fun and relatable by sharing stories from her own experiences becoming a self-made multi-millionaire. She shows people how to build wealth the right way, in a way that Wall Street and traditional financial advisors don't teach. She believes that the Twin Pillars of Wealth Building are the shortest and most direct paths to financial success - following the billionaire model of investing and creating a luxury brand business.

Tragedy in Linda's personal life inspired her to share her hard won wealth-building knowledge on a large scale. After suddenly losing her husband to a brain aneurism when she was just 45, Linda felt enormously grateful that she was financially safe and secure and had the knowledge to deal with important financial decisions. It was then that she had a new vision - to empower women all over the world in finding the same peace and security she'd experienced - and The Global Institute of Wealth for Women™ was born.

"If you're looking for someone to coach you on a path to wealth and financial freedom, then listen to my friend Linda P. Jones. What makes her unique from others talking about wealth, is she actually has a financial background. As someone who also comes from a financial consultant background, I know that makes all the difference in the world when choosing who to be coached by. Linda doesn't just talk about wealth creation, she has lived it!"
